

FRIDAY FLYER

DATE 8th January 2010

Dear parents,

Just a quick note to let you know, I am delighted to take up my appointment here at Sacred Heart. The children and staff have been very welcoming and I'm sure we can all go from strength to strength. I have to admit it was very odd that after having the children in for one day of me being officially in charge, I had to take the difficult decision to close the school because of the snow and ice. We are now back on track and as long as the forecast snow for next week is lighter we are determined to stay open. If we are hit by weather which makes a school closure inevitable the usual sources of information, Heart or Palm Radio will let you know.

My back ground is as a head teacher in Poole, then in Bournemouth before coming to work in Torbay and finally at Sacred Heart. I certainly seem to like seaside towns! I am really looking forward to continuing into the better weather and am always around for a chat if anyone wants to catch me.

Wishing you a peaceful and happy new year.
